

Kitten Vaccine Schedule and Pricing:

Kittens should begin their vaccination series at 8 weeks of age. They will typically receive 3 sets of booster vaccines at 4 week intervals, this is dependent on the age that they begin their series. If they begin their series later than 8 weeks of age they may require only 2 sets of boosters, but this will be determined by your veterinarian at the time of their first visit.

Core vaccines are as follows:

- Feline Calicivirus, Feline Panleukopenia, Feline Rhinotracheitis (Feline Herpesvirus-1):
 - These three can be given separately but here at Delton we offer it in a combination vaccine (FVRCP)
 - This vaccine requires 3 boosters total, one at each of the kitten series visits.
- Rabies Virus:
 - This vaccine can be given to kittens after 16 weeks of age and is usually given at the last kitten series visit.

Non-core vaccines are dependent on each individual kitten's lifestyle which will be discussed with your veterinarian and include:

- Feline Leukemia:
 - If this vaccine is recommended by your veterinarian it is generally given at the second visit and boosted 4 weeks later at the third/final kitten visit.

Other things to consider:

The veterinarian may recommend 2-3 rounds of deworming for your new kitten, the cost will depend on the type of dewormer and the weight of your kitten. This will be discussed at the visit and will range in cost from approximately $15-$30^{+GST}.

We also recommend a form of identification such as a microchip, this can be placed at any of the kitten visits or you may opt to administer it at the time of the Spay or Neuter procedure. The cost for the microchip is $75.00^{+GST}.

Be sure to talk to your veterinarian about when the right time to spay or neuter your kitten is. One of our technicians will send you a personalized quote after your kitten's visit.
